

Friend of HAI,

As we enter this year's Annual Fund Campaign—a year marked by a devastating cyclone that struck Health Alliance International's hometown in Mozambique—I am humbled by the transformative power of a supportive community.

Whether you are an old friend or a new friend, you are a critical part of Health Alliance International's community.

And, as a friend, you probably know that HAI's model is a little different than the rest.

In the countries where we work, HAI always puts the priorities and authority of the public sector health system first. Rather than parachuting in with our own ideas, we forge longstanding relationships with health system leaders and staff—who are working daily to provide the best possible care to their communities.

We listen to their priorities, and together, we design and implement programs that are responsive to local needs. We work at the system level, improving data interpretation, research capacity, and clinical skills so that our in-country colleagues are equipped with the tools necessary to inform evidence-based improvements in their public health system.

Domingas' fourth son was her first born in a health facility.

HAI's Liga Inan program is helping the Timor-Leste government provide lifesaving care to pregnant women like Domingas by connecting clinics to the communities they serve. Support from HAI'S COMMUNITY HELPED LAUNCH THE LIGA INAN PILOT IN 2013. This year, the Liga Inan program completed its nationwide roll-out through the National Health System, reaching its 55,000th family.

Two weeks ago, the community of Manga Mascarenhas welcomed the opening of their newly refurbished clinic. Just one of many ways that HAI'S COMMUNITY OF SUPPORTERS MADE IT POSSIBLE for HAI to respond to the priorities of Mozambique's Ministry of Health in the wake of Cyclone Idai.

In Timor-Leste we are transforming maternal healthcare for rural mothers and government midwives. In Côte d'Ivoire we are making HIV detection and care a systematic, integrated part of primary health care. And, in Mozambique we are building local capacity in everything from mental illness and drug-resistant tuberculosis detection to locally-led public health surveillance and research.

Today, I ask you to take the next step in your commitment to our shared values of health equity and solidarity.

When you contribute to HAI's Annual Fund Campaign, you take a stand for a more equitable model of global health.

Stand alongside us.
